

Job Posting #6: Motorcycle builder/rider

Vanguard is an entirely new and distinct motorcycle brand, designed, engineered and built in New York City. With an advanced take on design and a unique approach to engineering, manufacturing and sales, Vanguard's vision is to redefine the premium motorcycle.

We are currently seeking sharp, motivated individuals to join a tight-knit engineering team in designing and producing motorcycles unlike any other.

Motorcycle builder/rider

Role:

- Experienced motorcycle builder and rider with extensive mechanical/electrical experience on motorcycles and their various key components, capable of thinking outside the box and providing feedback to the design team as related to motorcycle riding dynamics and assembly.
- Responsible for the assembly of prototypes, kit version and pre-series, as well as support production and after sales service.
- Work closely with the design and engineering group to give feedback on technical, quality and cost issues, and develop alternative solutions
- The builder/rider will be part of a cross-functional team reporting to the Project Manager.

Qualifications:

- V-Twin experience strongly preferred, experience with other engine configurations can be considered.
- Strong verbal and written communication skills.
- Proactive, self-motivated and ability to work independently, happy to work in a fast-paced, exciting startup environment and participate towards office life.

Compensation:

- $50k to $90k base salary
- Bonus target of 5% of base
- Medical benefits

Position:

Full-time in our New York City facility, located at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.
